

Share a little. Save a lot.

Introducing Bring Your Own Device (BYOD)

BYOD is a new groundbreaking program from Renewable Energy Vermont and GMP that pays you to share stored energy during peak power demand times. You can fight climate change, lower electricity costs for everyone, and earn a discount on your new energy device. But first, you need the device!

Explore home battery back-up, speedy home car charging and other green energy options:

Connect with a contractor:

visit revermont.org or call 802-229-0099

Already have your device?

Enroll at: greenmountainpower.com/bring-your-own-device, or call 888.835.4672.

Renewable Energy Vermont and GMP are working together on a common goal: reducing carbon emissions, and delivering innovation to Vermonters. By partnering with you, we all can make a difference in the fight against climate change.

To learn more, contact REV at:

info@revermont.org | 802-229-0099 | www.revermont.org